ASL Investment Strategy

The assets of the Fund comprise:

- (a) Investments in mortgage based securities (including investment in the Australian Securities Income Fund “| ASIF |”); and
- (b) cash equivalent investments, that meet the objectives of the Fund.

The allocation of these assets as investments will depend upon the liquidity requirements of the Fund.

The income earned by the Fund will vary on a daily basis, depending on the mortgage securities and cash-equivalent investments held at the end of each day. The rate of return will reflect on the risk of return on the Fund’s investments and is calculated on a daily basis.

Investment Categories

Mortgage Securities

Each mortgage security pays a defined income to the Fund. To maintain a stable and secure investment all mortgage securities are in Australia and do not exceed 66% of the value of the security.

Mortgage Securities are categorised by the use of real estate security. Different types of mortgage securities may attract a higher interest rate, which generally reflects a perceived increased risk.

The Fund will invest in mortgage securities (whether direct or via ASIF) that fall within the following five categories:

Commercial and Retail

Commercial property covering offices and retail shops are included in this category and will generally have a commercial lease or be owner occupied.

Residential

Residential property comprises properties used for domestic purposes.

Industrial

Industrial property comprises factories and warehouses used for manufacturing, mechanical or industrial purposes.

Regional, Coastal or Rural

Rural securities comprise farms, vineyards, and residential properties outside metropolitan areas and include homes in coastal and seaside areas.

Land

The Fund will invest in vacant land but only where the loan to valuation ratio does not exceed 50% and the land is considered to be readily saleable by ASL.

Cash Equivalent Securities

Cash equivalent securities include investments in:

- (a) term deposits/bank bills; and
- (b) bonds issued by a state or federal government.

Investment Selection Criteria

ASL’s investment selection and investment allocation model is based on the following criteria:

(a) Liquidity Requirements

The Fund will be required to maintain sufficient liquidity to meet all redemption requests.

(b) Diversification

The Fund is diversified at multiple levels:

- (i) Between the asset classes involving mortgage securities (whether direct or in ASIF) and cash equivalent securities.
- (ii) By ensuring no single asset in the portfolio exceeds 10% of the total assets of the Fund.
- (iii) With variable mortgage securities:
 - Number of mortgage securities held by the Fund;
 - Size of the mortgage securities held by the Fund;
 - The number of borrowers involved in each mortgage security (including and ensuring that no single borrower exceeds 10% of the scheme assets);
 - The categories of properties over which the Fund’s mortgage securities are held (includes ASIF investments);
 - The geographic location of the properties over which the Funds’ mortgage securities are held;
 - The varying loan to valuation ratios in each mortgage security;

¹ The MSD excludes T2 investors from the Interest Advance Facility

- The different interest rate structures across each mortgage security.

(iv) Cash equivalent securities are further diversified between the varying types of cash equivalent securities described in ‘Investment Categories’ (on page 8) along with the size, rate and maturity profiles of those cash equivalent securities held by the fund.

(c) Mortgage suitability assessment (including ASIF investments)

ASL will assess whether a mortgage is suitable by taking into account:

- (a) The borrowers capacity to meet their loan obligations (including serviceability);
- (b) The borrower’s suitability for a loan based on credit history and historical loan performance;
- (c) The suitability of the property to ensure the real property over which the first mortgage is to be registered is suitable having regard to the issues raised in section ‘Investment Selection Criteria’ (b) (iii) (page 8).

(d) Cash Equivalent Security Assessment including:

- a. Review of the weighting of cash equivalent securities as within the Fund;
- b. Risk review of the cash equivalent security at the time of investment; and
- c. Risk review of the issuer / provider of the cash equivalent security at the time of investment.

- (b) The market valuation to be conservative and valuers to comply with the Property Institute Valuation Standards and specific guidelines from ASL relating to valuation and independence; and
- (c) Valuations are on an “as is” basis to generally provide a valuation based on comparative sales and summation separately valuing land from improvements (along with the insurance replacement value and rental value).

Valuation Policy - Direct Mortgage Investments

ASL’s valuation policy is contained in the ASTF Compliance Plan (and for ASIF investments in the ASIF compliance plan).

The key components of the valuation policy can be summarised as follows:

- (a) An ASL panel valuer must:
 - (i) Be independent;
 - (ii) Have a minimum 5 years experience to value the property used as collateral for a mortgage security;
 - (iii) Be a member of an appropriate professional body in the jurisdiction in which the relevant property is located; and
 - (iv) Have professional indemnity insurance.

Investment policy changes

The Constitution permits a wide range of investments and gives ASL broad investment powers. ASL may vary the investment objectives strategies and processes set out in this PDS, provided that ASL gives Investors written notice of any material variation it believes Investors would not have reasonably expected.

The warning below is required by law.

The fees and other costs associated with investing in the Fund are described in this section.

This document shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from the assets of the managed investment scheme as a whole.

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You may be able to negotiate to pay lower contribution fees and management costs where applicable.

Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

Risks and Safeguards

Risks

Introduction to risk

Risk generally refers to the variability and volatility of an investment return and the likelihood of incurring a loss on your investment.

Like all investments, this Fund has an element of risk. Before making an investment in the Fund the investor should consider their:

- (a) Specific risk assessment by investing in this Fund;
- (b) Other investments compared with the risks in this Fund;
- (c) Personal risk tolerance; and
- (d) Personal investment objectives and expected return and outcome from this investment.

It is commonly accepted that there is a relationship between the level of return generated by an investment, and its level of risk. The spectrum below shows the four main types of investments according to their relationship between risk and return for you to consider.

An investment with lower risk should be chosen if investment security is of greater concern than higher returns. Conversely, if an Investor aims for higher returns, there is more likely to be a higher risk.

It is also important to note that not all risk can be foreseen; therefore it is not possible for ASL to protect the value of an investment from all risks.

What are the risks of this Fund?

Market Risk

Market risk is the risk that negative market movements will affect the price of assets within a particular market and may include, by way of example, a decline in the whole property market in line with various trends in the Australian or overseas markets due to various internal factors (e.g. over supply of real estate), or external factors (e.g. general economic conditions).

Property risk is the risk that values on property assets will be affected by the supply and demand for relevant property used as security, vacancy levels, insurance (and any exclusions like terrorism) competing developments, interest rates, inflation, rental levels, property outgoings, economic cycles, investor demand levels, business confidence, government and central bank policies and general market conditions.

Inflation risk is the danger that the rate of inflation is higher than the return received on investments. This can have an adverse impact on the value of an investment in a mortgage security or a cash equivalent investment.

ASL researches and analyses the factors effecting market risk to try to limit the market risk to the Fund and its Investors.

Economic Risk

Economic risk is the risk that there is a general downturn in economic conditions that may adversely impact investments (both from an income perspective and capital value perspective).

Capital Risk

Capital risk involves the risk that the capital invested in an investment (whether a mortgage investment or cash equivalent investment) is eroded away.

ASL does not guarantee the repayment to an investment of 100% of their monetary contribution invested in the Fund.

ASL manages this risk by:

- (a) ensuring the investment portfolio is diversified as outlined at page 5;
- (b) ensuring the loan to valuation set for mortgage securities is conservative (i.e. capped at 66%);
- (c) undertaking appropriate due diligence on all borrowers (both via legal enquiries, credit check and evaluation of real estate used as security).
- (d) Ensuring all cash equivalent investments have appropriate investment ratings.

Valuation Risk

Valuation risk is the risk that the value attributed to a property used as collateral for mortgage security is misstated.

ASL's valuation policy aims to reduce this risk by requiring:

- (a) An ASL panel valuer to have 5 years minimum experience to value the specific security, is a member of the Property Institute [or equivalent] and has professional indemnity insurance.
- (b) The market valuation to be conservative and valuers to comply with the Property Institute Valuation Standards and specific guidelines from ASL relating to valuation and independence.
- (c) Valuations to generally provide a valuation based on comparative sales and summation separately valuing land from improvements as well as including the insurance replacement value and rental value are also included.

Income Risk

The Fund's income is derived from both mortgages and cash equivalent investments. There is a risk that either of these investments will not generate the expected income returns.

In addition, the distributable income of the Fund will be adversely affected by:

- (a) mortgage defaults leading to a loss of income and increased costs as a result of enforcement action; or
- (b) the availability of suitable investments for the Fund.

ASL does not guarantee interest payments.

The income risk is managed partly by the Income Assurance Fund and the diversification of the Fund's investments.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity relates to how quickly an investor can access their money from an investment.

An Investor is only able to redeem an investment from the Fund and access their invested funds where:

- (a) there is sufficient cash in the Fund to meet all redemption requests; and
- (b) after the initial investment period has been satisfied.

Whilst ASL manages this liquidity risk through diversification and setting minimum cash and cash equivalent investment requirements, the Fund may not be able to pay redemption requests within the time frames provided for in the Constitution and this PDS where it does not have sufficient cash to realise those requirements on a short term basis.

Liquidity is frequently dependent on continuing inflow from new investors, borrowings or "rollovers" by existing investors because the underlying assets of the scheme may not be easily realised within a short period of time.

Portfolio Diversification Risk

Portfolio diversification risk is the risk that the Fund's investments are not sufficiently diversified. The criteria used is prone to risk especially where:

- (a) Loan-to-Valuation ratios are higher than traditional lending; and
- (b) Loans made are highly concentrated to particular types of commercial activities, location or borrowers. Lack of diversification may mean that an adverse event affecting a borrower will simultaneously affect majority of borrowers and put the portfolio at risk.

ASL manages this risk through adopting conservative LVR requirements and setting investment parameters.

Operational Risk

ASL Financial Services Division constantly monitors mortgage securities to verify all mortgage securities are performing within investor expectations.

Insurance risk

The borrower of each mortgage security is required to keep the property insured at all times with the interest of the Fund (or ASIF) recorded on the policy. ASL will contact the insurer and pay the insurance premium when a borrower fails to provide insurance otherwise the borrower must immediately repay the loan.

ASL does not require Lenders Mortgage Insurance on any of its loan as the loan-to-valuation ratio never exceeds 66%.

Non Performing Loans

Any form of lending has an element of risk to the lender that either interest or principal may not be repaid on the due date. The probability of a single default increases with a loan to valuation ratio on a specific mortgage, security or the size of the Fund.

ASL mitigates this risk by:

- (a) Adopting conservative LVR investment practices for each loan (whether direct or via ASIF);
- (b) Appointing a case manager to assess non performing loans to implement a measured response to the situation; and
- (c) Where the loan default cannot be remedied, appoint experienced legal and real estate professionals to realise any property security.

Where there is prolonged litigation with a borrower, this increases the risk of reduced income and potential for capital loss.

How you can manage your risk

In managing your risk, we recommend that you:

- Seek your own professional advice to help you understand how your current financial situation, and your investment objectives, affect the selection of investments that you can make;
- Consider your investment timeframe, your investment objectives and your risk tolerance; and
- Diversify your investments to help reduce risk and volatility of investment returns.

Other Information

Other information you need to know

Cut off times for investments

Instructions for applications, withdrawals or any other notifications must be received at ASL by 12:00pm [AEST] on a business day to be processed on the following business day.

Tax

ASL recommends Investors seek independent professional advice on their specific circumstances about the taxation implications of investing in the Fund.

Some of the general tax implications of investing in the Fund are explained below. It is intended to be a brief guide only and does not purport to be a complete statement of the relevant tax law nor should it be considered advice.

The following summary applies to individual investors who hold their investment on capital account for tax purposes.

Income Tax

Payment of income tax

The Fund generally does not pay income tax on the income it derives as it distributes all taxable income to the Investors each year. Rather, tax is payable by Investors in the Fund and is calculated according to the distributions in the year in which the distribution relates, even if it is received in the next financial year.

Your tax liability arises upon becoming presently entitled to the income of the distributions. This is so regardless of whether you receive the distributions or not.

Fees paid to ASL are typically tax deductible against your taxable income.

Withholding taxes

You may quote your tax file number | TFN | or claim an exemption from doing so by completing the TFN section in the Application form. The Fund is required to collect withholding tax for international investors. Australian residents have the highest marginal rate of tax deducted when an investor does not supply a TFN. If you are a non-resident you may be subject to the laws of the country of your domicile and should consult a taxation adviser before investing.

Goods and services tax | GST |

GST applies to fees and charges only.

GST which is applicable will be deducted from the income collected. The amount of any GST deduction is set out in the investor's periodic income statement which may be treated as a tax invoice.

If investing through a Financial Adviser please refer directly to them for your reporting needs. ASL will provide regular reporting information to Financial Advisers.
